OBEDIENT NOAH

A very long time ago, Yahweh caused a great worldwide flood that destroyed all life on earth because of mankind's evil. But one man found favor in Yahweh's eyes. His name was Noah. Yahweh instructed Noah to build an ark to save himself, his wife, his three sons, and their wives. Noah's sons were Shem, Ham and Japheth. We are not told much about Noah's wife and his sons.

Noah also was commanded to take two of all unclean animals and seven of all clean animals. Some examples of unclean animals include pigs, rabbits, rats, mice, tigers, wolves, elephants, and squirrels. Some examples of clean animals are cows, goats, sheep, and deer. Yahweh wanted to preserve their lives and allow them to reproduce. Of course, this is not a complete list of all clean and unclean animals. Interestingly, Noah knew what animals were clean and which were unclean even before Yahweh's dietary laws were given in Leviticus, chapter 11.

Once Noah, his family, and the animals were on board the ark, Yahweh sealed them in. Then it started to rain. It rained, and it rained, and it rained ... for forty days, and forty nights. After nearly a year in the ark, Noah sent out a dove to see if any land was near. It returned with an olive leaf. This is how Noah knew that soon they would be able to start new lives on dry ground. The ark came to rest on Mount Ararat, in the land now known as Turkey.

It must have been exciting to finally be on land after floating on the ark for many months. The animals were probably excited too! Animals don't enjoy being cooped up in cages. Sadly, the event of Noah and the flood does not have a happy ending. It would have been nice to say that mankind learned their lesson and life was wonderful. But no, mankind once again fell away into unrighteousness. So now we wait for Yahweh's Kingdom, when all mankind will truly find peace and happiness.
