Conversion: Null and Void!

When does conversion become null and void? The short answer is when one forsakes Yahweh. The long answer takes some contemplation.

“Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils ... and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed Him ... for he was numbered among us, and had obtained part of this ministry” (Matt. 10:8, 4; Acts 1:17).

And so, the question comes, what if a member of the presbytery – elder or deacon,

- thought established and settled in the faith (1 Pet. 5:10);
- having himself tasted of the Heavenly Gift and been made a partaker of the Holy Spirit and the powers of the world to come (Heb. 6:4-5);
- and to whose trust a dispensation of the Evangel had been committed (1 Cor. 9:17);
- whose speech and preaching was not with enticing words of man’s wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power (1 Cor. 2:4) should fall away.

Does his last estate – “when the righteous turns away from his righteousness, and commits iniquity, and does according to all the abominations that the wicked man does” (Ezek. 18:24) – nullify the authenticity of his previously good works and affect the grace with which the recipients of his ministry had received of Yahweh?

And the answer? The Apostle Paul, in his farewell address to the believers at Ephesus among whom he had labored for three years and from whom he kept back nothing that was profitable to them, neither shunned to declare the whole counsel of the heavenly Father, foretold them there should arise among them, men with smooth and feigned, fair speeches and great swelling words of vanity, speaking perverse things by which they would draw away disciples after themselves (Acts 20:31, 20, 27, 30).

And so, thus we judge – as well, the Scripture – that if the recipient of the defector’s previously good ministry should, with him, turn away from the Truth (Titus 1:14), he will afterward, with him, made his every good work reprobate (Titus 1:16), seeing he no longer has before Yahweh the answer of a good conscience void of offense (Acts 24:16; 1 Pet. 3:21).

But so long as he renounces the hidden things of dishonesty (2 Cor. 4:2); continues steadfastly in (Acts 2:42), and earnestly contends for the faith (Jude 1:3); then he has not forsaken the hope of his salvation. Through giving diligence to working out his salvation (Phil. 2:12), both willing and doing Yahweh's good pleasure (Phil. 2:13), such a person retains his right standing with Him Who has called him to sanctification (1 Thess. 4:3) and bears nothing of the reproach the other has brought upon himself.

Indeed, will men who behold his good works and are given reason to glorify His Father Which is in Heaven (Matt. 5:16), rather regard him who stands against the current of the defector's hypocrisy.

Whether a short or long answer, the same end is for those whom repentance is no longer found. But for those who repent and overcome, hope in the Master.

New Moon Get-Togethers

A few songs of praise, a sighting of the new moon, and fellowship. Yes, Yahweh is Good!

Removing the Trees

A lot of the Ash trees on the property have come to the end of their life, due to an invasive beetle that has plagued Missouri. A number of the trees need to come down before they fall down on their own. We are planning on saving as many cords of wood as we can to season and then sell for further assembly needs, besides having some for our own firepit on new moon nights and other times during the year.

To the right, we were able to till the garden recently. It's like walking on butter. We'll take some soil samples and see if there is anything else we need to do before planting in the Spring. We thank Yahweh for the physical aspects of the work, as well as the Spiritual. Whatever your hand finds to do, do it with all your might; for there is no activity or planning or knowledge or wisdom in sheol where you are going, Ecclesiastes 9:10, NASB.

Overseas Outreach

We were pleased to find out that the United States Postal Service has brought back Mbags for overseas shipments. What was reaching over $300 USD to send a box of Bibles or other literature, is now $87. The USPS had stopped using Mbag about 15 years ago, but now they're back. Praise Yahweh! The four boxes of Bibles below went to the elders and deacons in Ethiopia and South Sudan. They will be able to teach others more readily now that they have a good Study Bible to do so. Other cases already shipped, going to South Africa and the elders and deacons in the Philippines.
