The man who climbed a tree to see Yahshua

Zacchaeus was a wealthy tax collector who lived in the city of Jericho. When he heard that Yahshua was passing through the city, Zacchaeus joined the crowd waiting beside the road. But the tax collector was a short man, and he knew he would not be able to see over the heads of the other people waiting to see Yahshua. So Zacchaeus ran ahead and climbed a tree farther down the road. When Yahshua passed by, He stopped under the very tree where Zacchaeus waited.

Yahshua looked up and said, "Come down, Zacchaeus! I'm going to spend the evening at your house."

Zacchaeus and Yahshua

Yahshua would spend time with a dishonest person like Zacchaeus, but Yahshua said that He came to find lost people and save them. Yahshua knows that bad people can change their ways. Indeed, everyone on this earth has committed sins. But we can repent and be forgiven. Yahweh wants us to come to Him and admit we are wrong. He also wants to give those who follow Him eternal life!

Zacchaeus was excited. He quickly scrambled down the tree. Then he took Yahshua home and offered Him food and rest. We can imagine that Zacchaeus and Yahshua had quite the conversation!

Whatever they discussed certainly convicted Zacchaeus to say, "I have done wrong. I have grown rich collecting too much tax money. I will give half of what I have to the poor. Those I have cheated, I will pay back four times over."

The good people of Jericho probably wondered why
